A Philanthropic Journey

2018 ANNUAL REPORT TO THE GREATER HARTFORD COMMUNITY

Much like the world around us, the Greater Hartford Jewish community continues to evolve. This journey often takes unexpected pivots, as we encounter, and react to, unplanned detours. Similarly, this unique philanthropic journey on which each of us has embarked does not follow a straight path.

As adaptation and growth are essential for our community, so, too, are they vital for each of us as individuals. Our philanthropic work leads us to discover ourselves and our values, to explore our connections to family, to the past, and to the rest of the world, and to express that meaning through different causes and gifts.

In these pages, you will read stories of individuals embracing their philanthropic journeys through twists, turns and surprises. For many, these are stories of discovery, or as Martin Buber describes, “All journeys have secret destinations of which the traveler is unaware.”

This annual report is designed to assist you along your personal philanthropic journey. As you read about grant making, the Center for Innovative Philanthropy, our funds, financials and more, it is our hope you will be inspired to ask new questions. As an added tool on your personal path to repair the world, we encourage you to use the enclosed philanthropy workbook.

Last year, we launched the JMAP community dashboard, celebrated the first high school students traveling to Israel as part of the Israel Experience Travel Scholarship program, funded our community’s Jewish Leadership Academy, and enjoyed countless triumphs as donors put their philanthropy into action.

You make these innovations possible. We are continually grateful for your partnership in this holy endeavor and privileged to serve you in your pursuit of Tikkun Olam and Tzedekah.

Thank you for the trust you place in the Foundation, and for your care and commitment to your philanthropic journey.

It is our honor to travel with you along this path.

Sincerely,

The Gollob Family

Acts of loving kindness motivate the Gollob family. Rona and her adult children, Sandra and Marc, are inspired by the example set by their mother and grandmother, Edith Rosenberg. Although not able to provide much financial support, Edith valued helping those in need and often volunteered her time to drive neighbors in need of assistance to appointments or to the grocery store. She set the example of helping out in any way possible to those who were known to need assistance, but may not have asked. Helping others was what made a difference. Tikkun Olam – repairing the world one small act at a time.

This idea resonates with all three family members. Rona prefers to “touch and feel” an organization in order to better understand how it makes a difference in the world. Sandra and Marc agree, both like to experience the impact of an organization first-hand which may later lead to financial support. Marc donates his time and treasure to local organizations where he feels his gifts can have impact. Sandra supports organizations advocating for women’s health issues.

When Rona created her donor advised fund, she also chose to create a fund for her children as a way to help them enhance their personal giving by enabling them to make larger, more impactful gifts. Rona’s strategy has proven true. Together, Sandra and Marc collaborate to discuss the value they wish to donate from the fund each year. The remaining balance is then equally available to both, allowing them to each designate grants to organizations or causes for which they are passionate.

Continuing in the spirit of family philanthropy, Rona chose to consult with Sandra and Marc when she considered making a large commitment – one larger than she had ever made in the past. Both supported their mother’s decision, confirming the gift would make a positive impact on an organization important to them all.

Regardless of where Rona, Sandra and Marc’s philanthropic journeys may take them, they are certain the act of giving will always remain a constant in their lives. Each will continue to explore and grow in their personal philanthropy and look forward to impacting the world around them. Both individually, and together as a family, they continue the legacy learned from Edith - to repair the world one small step at a time.

Mary-Jane Eisen and Bob Yass

Mary-Jane’s parents were Holocaust survivors who came here in the early 1950’s to make a new life for themselves and their one-year-old daughter. They thought the best way they could “give” to this country that they loved so dearly was not to take any handouts. All they wanted was the chance to become self-sufficient and that’s exactly what they did. However, it took a lot of hard work and, as a result, volunteerism and philanthropy were not a top priority for them. Her daughter’s path was much different.

When Mary-Jane and Bob moved to Connecticut in the late 1970s, Mary-Jane worked for Covenant Insurance, which cooperated with the United Way to match executives with volunteer opportunities in the Greater Hartford area. Through this initiative, she became involved with CWEALF (the Connecticut Women’s Education and Legal Fund) and realized how much people can enrich their lives through volunteerism. This was the start of her philanthropic journey.

Mary-Jane continued that journey with Bob’s support. “Bob has been my beacon,” she says. Mary-Jane is grateful to Bob for taking a leadership role in bringing a philanthropic consciousness not only to her, but to their two adult children.

Bob’s journey is tied to his understanding of what “home” means to him. He says, “Part of what makes the Greater Hartford area ‘homey’ for us is being part of our vibrant Jewish community.” That’s why the Greater Hartford Jewish community became the focus for his volunteerism and philanthropy 40 years ago.

A key component in Bob’s journey was participating in the Wexner Heritage Leadership Program in the early 1990s. He has been working to repay this transformational gift ever since.

Bob and Mary-Jane’s commitment to sustaining the Jewish community here and around the world has grown over time, along with their ability to give generously. They also feel strongly about fostering connections between the Jewish community and others across the Greater Hartford area.

Next steps for Bob and Mary-Jane on their philanthropic journey? They take their responsibility seriously and feel both exhilarated and challenged by the philanthropic opportunities facing them. In seeking to maximize their impact, they want to better understand community needs as well as the existing programs that attempt to address those needs. Their goals are to be more purposeful, define their short- and long-term objectives, find ways to measure impact, and include their children more actively. Their journey is as important to them as the destination.

Philanthropic Journeys

Grants in Action

Grant making is a catalyst for change, fueling the positive impact we all aim to achieve within our community and the world. We are pleased to share a retrospective look at two grantee organizations and how they have put their grants into action by exploring creative, new ideas and approaches.

Jewish Association for Community Living

When the Foundation made a grant to Jewish Association for Community Living (JCL) to build its fundraising and donor engagement capacity, it was investing in JCL's sustainability. Capacity building grants like this are key to a thriving Jewish community, helping organizations improve effectiveness and positioning them to better fulfill their mission.

Like many agencies, JCL must reconcile a gap in its state funding and the costs of providing quality care to individuals with intellectual disabilities. Unfortunately, each year the gap grows and maintaining the quality level of care becomes more expensive. Fundraising from grants and individuals is key to meet this challenge.

Guided by a logic model it learned from the Foundation's Center for Innovative Philanthropy, JCL set a goal to enhance fundraising by improving communication with donors, expanding its donor base, raising visibility, training existing JCL staff to serve as advocates, and building internal capacity for raising awareness. The Foundation's two-year grant enabled JCL to hire a development professional to write a strategic fundraising plan as well as a marketing consultant to put the plan into action.

The result: JCL has experienced a 70% increase in total donations, grants, and gifts.

Jewish Leadership Academy

Resilient, forward-thinking leaders ensure vibrant, sustainable communities. That's why the Foundation was proud to award a grant to the Jewish Federation to establish the Jewish Leadership Academy (JLA) to strengthen the skills of veteran and emerging community leaders.

In its first year, JLA has seen over 400 program participants, with 270 unique users. It achieved these results by providing educational and training programs for agency presidents/board chairs, young professionals, synagogue leadership and community members, including:

- Community Leadership Initiative (CLI) – a year-long program for incoming board presidents or candidates for board leadership. Topics include managing change and understanding personal leadership style.

- The Presidents' Circle – a peer learning group which brings together synagogue and agency presidents to network, build trust and explore creative problem-solving.
- Turn Your Passion into Professional Success – a program for Jewish professionals that fosters excitement about leadership.

JLA is strengthening our community by building connections, fostering trust and encouraging collaboration and preparing once untapped talent for key leadership positions.

Foundation Initiatives in Action

Center for Innovative Philanthropy

Education and hands-on support is another way the Foundation makes a difference. Our Center for Innovative Philanthropy (CIP) helps strengthen organizations, provides data and research, and educates the community – all with the goal of increasing the impact of every philanthropic dollar in our community.

Dashboard Tracks Community Progress

The JMAP community study collected perspectives of hundreds of community members across Greater Hartford. Based on their shared priorities and needs, the JMAP dashboard was born. The dashboard is a way for us to track progress on key goals over time, including volunteerism, community fundraising, and programming for interfaith families.

For example, pride in Israel was important, so the dashboard measures how many institutions sponsored trips to Israel (10 trips last year). Next year, we expect there will be even more, including students who receive scholarships through the Foundation's new Israel Experience Travel Scholarship.

JTConnect Creates New Strategic Plan

The world of teenagers changes at lightning speed, and JTConnect, a local educational nonprofit that educates Jewish teens, knows it needs to think strategically to stay a step ahead. With a grant from the Foundation and consultation from CIP staff, JTConnect has embarked on an organizational assessment and planning process to chart its course for the next three years. The plan that emerged reflects the findings of the assessment, trends and best practices in Jewish teen engagement, and opportunities in the local community for greater participation among teens.

"The plan builds on JTConnect's unique capabilities and assets, particularly in the areas of education and program delivery," said Eric Maurer, JTConnect Executive Director. "We are already seeing the results; we had a surge in teen participation last year, with more than 400 teens. That's an 83 percent increase from the previous year. While we have lots of work ahead of us, we are energized by the process and excited about JTConnect's direction."

Israel Travel Scholarship Recipients

In January the Foundation awarded the first round of Israel Experience Travel Scholarships to 10 high school students in the Greater Hartford area. Among the largest of its kind in the country, this program awards each student up to $6,000 for an immersive Israel travel experience. Students participate in pre- and post-travel education sessions and local community service projects which, in combination with their travel experiences, will help each teen form a strong sense of Jewish identity and lifelong connections to the state of Israel.

"My trip to Israel was nothing short of life changing. I returned with new intelligence, a group of incredible friends, a stronger love for Israel, and a deeper understanding of my Jewish roots. One month there has significantly changed me in so many ways, such as boosting my independence and even solidifying my career path – international relations with a focus on the Israeli-Palestinian conflict. I am even considering making Aliyah in the future! I cannot thank the Foundation enough for giving me this extremely meaningful opportunity; it has truly shaped who I am as a person."

— LEAH LERNER

2018 GRANTS IMPACT

In all we do, the Foundation strives to make a difference and create change. In addition to providing gifts in support of community innovation, new initiatives, social services, education, arts and culture, Israel, and more, thoughtful grant making are gifts that represent the generous, caring spirit embodied in our donor – a spirit to lovingly give to support repairing the world.

In 2018, we realized a record-breaking year for grantmaking both in the total number of grants awarded as well as the total value of grants. A total of 1,109 grants yielding more than $4.7 million were awarded to a wide variety of programs and services that touch an incalculable number of organizations, families and individuals locally, nationally, in Israel and beyond.

1,109 Grants totaling

$4,714,011

There are countless reasons for creating or contributing to a fund at the Jewish Community Foundation. Though unique to each donor, they are all rooted in Tikkun Olam – repairing the world.

Donor choice is paramount at the Foundation, allowing donors to connect with, support and amplify the organizations and causes for which they are most passionate. The creativity, passion and generosity of our donors continues to inspire us and our community every day. Through unrestricted, designated or donor advised funds, donors achieve their philanthropic goals and true impact is realized.

We are honored to steward our donors and our partners. We work together to ensure our donor's philanthropic goals are fulfilled.

The funds listed on the following pages represent those that received gifts of at least $5,000, or have grown to that value as of June 30, 2018.

For a listing of fund and fund balances, please visit www.jcfhartford.org/AboutUs/PublicationsandFactSheets. You may also contact the Jewish Community Foundation to request a mailed copy.

NEW FUNDS

At the core of each and every donor is a heartfelt feeling of generosity and compassion. While each is unique in the stories and reasons behind creating new funds at the Foundation, we all share the vision and hope for a better world for generations to come.

The following is a listing of the new funds created this past year. The Foundation is honored to steward these funds. We are grateful for the opportunity to share in this work, together, with our donors and partners.

Donor Advised Funds Create Impact

A Survivor Gives Back to Kids Like Him

When Nick Wallace received a life-saving liver transplant at age 12, he didn't go to Disneyworld – he started a nonprofit to support other hospitalized children.

Nick's Picks, the nonprofit he created in Del Mar, CA, was a recent recipient of a Donor Advised Fund grant. The organization provides customized backpacks for children facing long-term hospitalization, filled with fun and comforting items to help fight the feelings of loneliness and disconnect that Nick experienced during his own hospital stays.

Nick's Picks is just one shining example of the many causes that the Foundation's donors support through donor advised funds, locally and around the world.

Designated Funds Create Impact

The Ripple Effects of Supporting Nurses

A designated fund at the Foundation is dedicated to local nursing education and professional development – at not just one, but three major hospitals. This strategic commitment has lasting ripple effects for hundreds of patients and their families every year because better nurses mean better care for patients.

Each institution receives yearly funds to support this work, building a reliable pipeline of funding to support nurses and their ongoing professional development.

This grant provides a terrific example of smart designated grants that make an impact not just for the individuals who directly benefit, but also for the patients they serve, their colleagues, and their institutions.

Good Deeds Day
 Students from UConn Hillel participated in Good Deeds Day on April 15th by making sandwiches for people in need. The students were in good company – over three million people in 100 countries participated in the day believing in the tenet that good deeds, no matter the size, make for positive change in our world.

2018 Financials

The Jewish Community Foundation of Greater Hartford has a mandate to fulfill its role in Greater Hartford by maximizing dollars available for making grants today and by ensuring that charitable dollars entrusted to it are available in perpetuity. A well-diversified investment strategy and the generosity of our donors enable the Foundation to meet these objectives.

Investment Portfolio

The Foundation's assets are managed in a commingled investment pool. The Foundation has a long term investment horizon with relatively low liquidity needs. For these reasons, the portfolio can tolerate short and intermediate term volatility in the interest of generating higher returns over the long term.

Financial Oversight

The Foundation's Investment Committee implements investment policy and monitors the individual investment managers and their performance. The Investment Committee is assisted by an independent consulting firm, Colonial Consulting, LLC of New York, NY.

The managed investment portfolio includes not only traditional stock and bond investments, but participation in private equity, real assets/commodities and absolute return strategies. Diversification among multiple asset classes helps to reduce the volatility of the Foundation's endowment and moderate market risk.

Spending Policy

By using a spending policy, the Foundation helps to ensure that the charitable funds will be protected for the future while continuing to have the most impact today. The policy determines the amount that will be available for grant making and to support the Foundation's operating budget. The 2018 spending rate was 5% for all permanent charitable funds. The Foundation uses a smoothing mechanism to limit the impact of market fluctuations. Spending is equal to 5% of the previous 16-quarters average ending value of each fund, subject to a 4% floor and 5.5% ceiling.

Audited Financial Statements

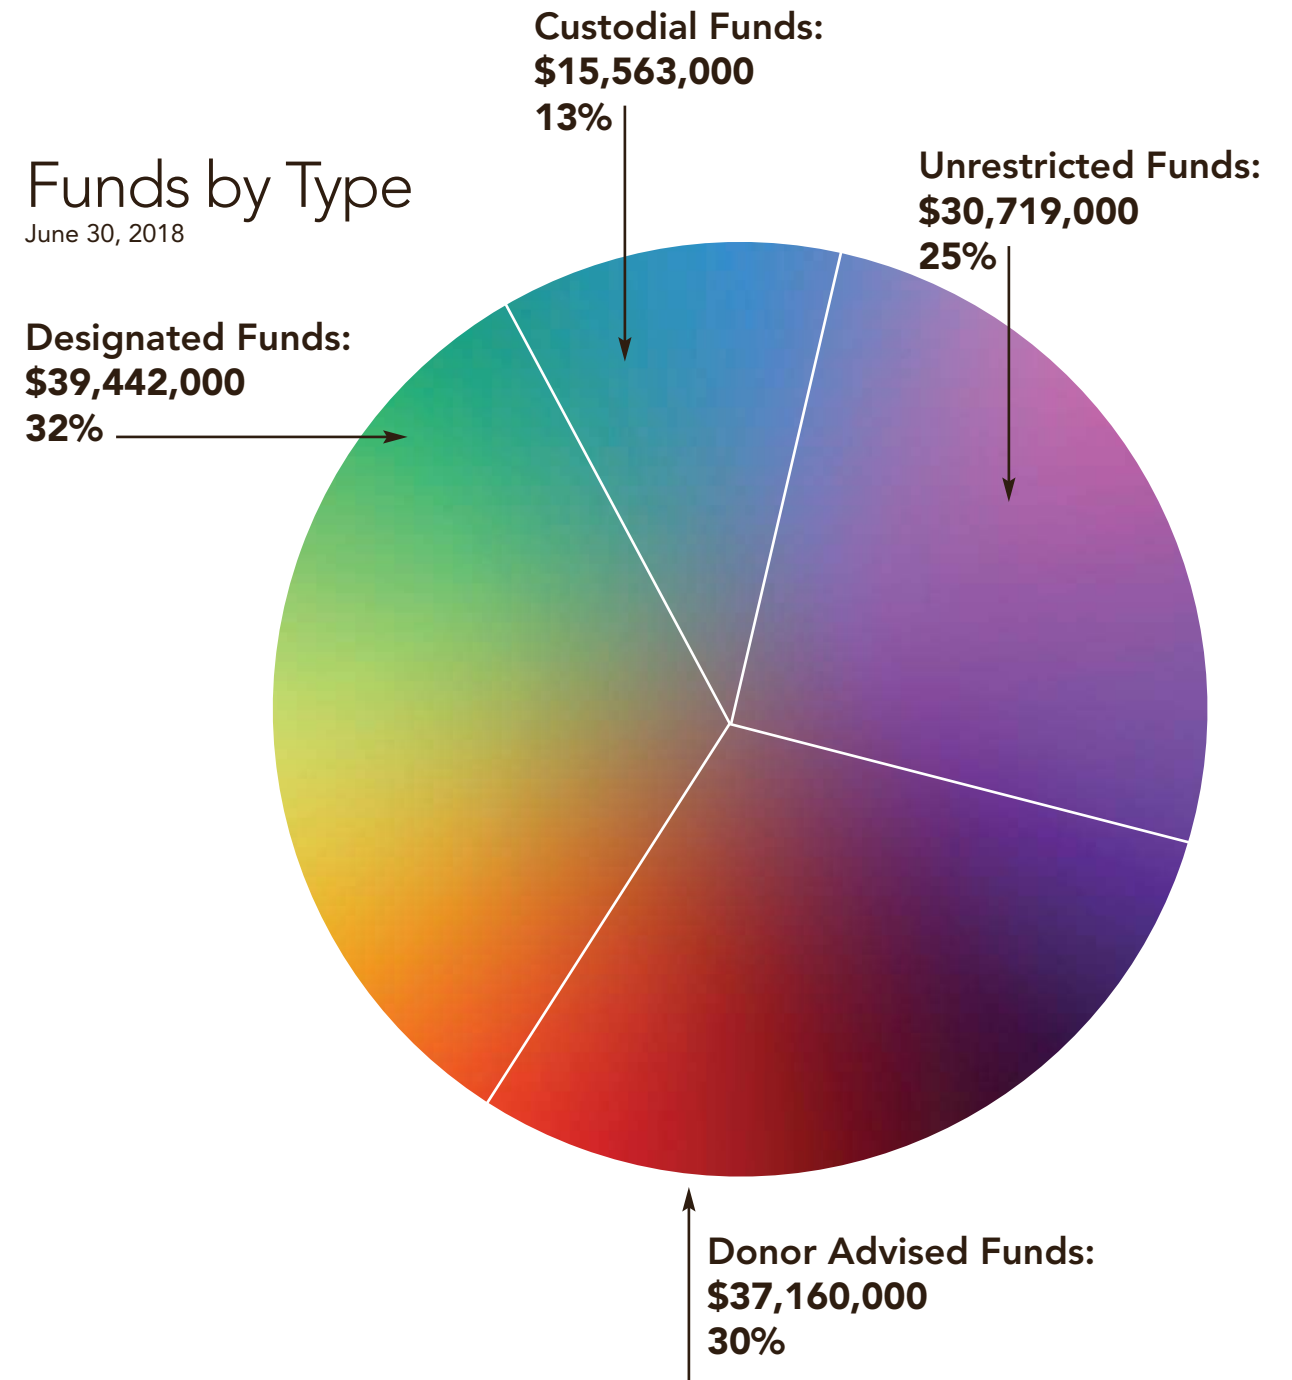

The Foundation's financial statements are prepared under the policies and procedures overseen by its Audit Committee and, ultimately, the Board of Trustees. The statements are audited by CohnReznick LLC. The Foundation's audited financial statements for the year ended June 30, 2018 are available online at www.jcfhartford.org.

Expenses

The Foundation's management and Board of Trustees take careful steps to ensure that the operating expenses are kept as low as possible. The Foundation's expense to asset ratio for the year was 1.3%.
